Kate Eberle Walker of Presence scoops top honor at Business Innovation Leaders Forum 2023 Awards

Winner announced and award presented at NetEvents Global Media & CxO Summit gala dinner San Jose, California

San Jose, CA, USA. February 16, 2023: The winner of the Business Innovation Leaders Forum ‘Women Business Leaders’ award was announced at the NetEvents Global Media & CxO Summit at the Hayes Mansion, San Jose, California, USA. This prestigious award recognizes outstanding leadership in technology innovation, strategy and execution.

Kate Eberle Walker from Presence was the much-deserved winner. Kate, a highly accomplished education industry leader and author won for her exceptional work as the CEO of Presence, a leading provider of teletherapy solutions for children with diverse needs. Kate has over 20 years of experience in driving growth at high-profile education companies and has built value through strategic acquisitions, technical innovation, and cultural transformation. Her majority female remote workforce at Presence has delivered over 5 million teletherapy sessions across 45 states. She is also the author of the book The Good Boss, which shares valuable advice for women in the workplace. Kate is a contributor at Fast Company and Forbes and serves on several education-focused boards.

“We are delighted Kate has been awarded the Women Business Leaders award. Her dedication and commitment to work in education and wellbeing, utilising technology to facilitate teletherapy to children in need of such services, is remarkable and to be admired”, said Mark Fox, CEO of NetEvents. “Her philosophy that technology should enhance human connection is something we believe in and is one of the main challenges facing IT professionals today. She shines a spotlight on the importance of technology delivering vital services, hybrid working and empowering women in the workplace.

I know fellow Business Innovation Leaders board members found choosing the winner a difficult task. The finalists are a group of exceptionally talented and focussed professionals and we thank all of them for being a part of NetEvents 2023.”

The NetEvents Global IT Summit offers a stimulating and topical two-day conference program of hot debates, head-to-heads and presentations by visionaries and industry analysts. For vendors it provides an exceptional opportunity to meet these networking and communications industry gatekeepers and spend quality time together in an informal yet focused environment.
